The visual travelogue of artist Gary Spetz

Veteran US public television host/artist, Gary Spetz, continues in the travel genre with this new 13-episode travel series. Once again, it is the visual travelogue of an artist, emphasizing “the path traveled” to acquire his art.

Color World is designed to appeal to artists and non-artists, alike. It calls upon travelers to open their eyes a bit wider, to further appreciate what may be easily passed by. It is the series’ premise that—in a world of so many “bells and whistles”—simple beauty is often overlooked.

Color World sets off for the Mediterranean, where host Gary explores the fabled city of Venice; the legendary city of Rome; the Renaissance birthplace, Florence; the romantic French/Italian Riviera; the quirky, cosmopolitan city of Barcelona; and the exotic Greek Islands. Then Gary departs for the tropical Hawaiian Island of Maui, followed by episodes of New England and the fall colors of the Saint Lawrence Seaway.
